GOODBYE 2012.....WELCOME 2013

Wish for 2013...

Wish we will remain healthy and free from disease

Wish the kids will continue to remain curious

Wish there will be less violence towards the innocent

Wish that all your dreams come true and we remain blessed with your continued friendship

❖ Happy New Year ❖

2012 - THE YEAR OF WAITING

2012 was a year that for most part was spent waiting...

Waiting for our baby to be born,

Waiting for the Europeans to fix their mess,

*Waiting for the US election to be done with
and the cliff to be resolved,*

Waiting for the Indian Government to do something and get India back to growth,

Waiting for dictators in the world to be replaced by the will of their people,

*Waiting
for less regulation
and most of all...*

*Waiting
for a clear path of global* growth.

Alas, while some wait was rewarded, we remain

.....waiting.

5 key events in our lives

This year was defined as much by events that took place as by events that didn't. Yes, we continued on our travels and went to Shanghai, Sanya, Singapore, Penang, & Chennai. But considering Lakshmi was pregnant at the year beginning, we did more around Hong Kong - whether it be trekking, camping, eating out, clubbing, golfing or going to kids' school events.

We also had most visitors this year....when are you coming??

countries

Thrayee

We were blessed by the birth of a girl child on 10-11-12. Ramkey has always wanted a daughter. What does the name mean? Thrayee is another name for Lakshmi and signifies Intellect.

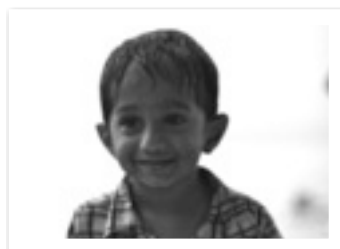

21 Again..

This was a big year as Ramkey turned 21 for the 20th time....go figure! We had a gala time with our friends and Ramkey's brother made it even more special by making it!!

New Home

No... we haven't left Hong Kong but just moved within the same city. We are loving it here.

2 Non Events

The biggest non-event was the end of world. What was supposed to be cosmic turned out to be comic!! Also, Ramkey didn't add to his tally of 58!! He sure hopes to not repeat this in 2013.
